MUIR CAMP OFFERS SUMMER FUN—UNPLUGGED

MARTINEZ—John Muir Mountain Day Camp, held in John Muir’s pear and plum orchards, offers children naturally good times outdoors free from today’s electronic distractions. Enrollment is open for children ages 8 to 12 for two, five-day sessions from August 2 through 6 and August 9 through 13. Camp is located at the John Muir National Historic Site in Martinez, and is sponsored by the John Muir Association and the National Park Service. Camp fun includes exploring trails, painting, crafts, discovering plants and animals, touring Muir’s Victorian home, making sourdough bread with 141-year-old starter, and child-pleasing activities with “John Muir” (portrayed by National Park Service Ranger Frank Helling), National Park Service rangers and special guests.

Sign up now—space is limited. For more information, call Camp Director Jill Harcke at (925) 680-8807 or visit www.muircamp.org.
